Terms and Conditions of training and subscription

Aikido is a martial art, and by its nature involves elements of danger and unpredictability. Permanent and serious injury can result from practising aikido, including injury resulting in death.

I, (the individual named above and undersigned) recognised and agree

- (a) that the practice of aikido could cause serious and permanent injury to myself or another person, including but not limited to, injury to joints of the wrists, elbows, shoulders, neck and back which may result in restrictions of movement or partial or permanent paralysis, quadriplegia or even injury resulting in death.
- (b) to carefully follow the training instructions and dojo rules for etiquette and safety at all times during my practice of aikido.
- (c) that I am not required to perform any techniques or practise in any situation which I considered to be unsafe, in which case I agree to notify the instructor immediately of my concerns.
- (d) that where I have an illness, condition, disability or injury (listed below) that could place me or another person at risk in any manner whatsoever during training, I will complete the details on this form and verbally notify the instructor prior to training. I agree to assume the risk of my illness(s), disability(s), injury(s) or condition(s) being aggravated during aikido training.
- (e) to hold Aikido Kokikai Australia Ltd and their instructors, executives, directors, committee members, members, students, volunteers, and agents, free and forever release them from any and all liability, claim or demand, whether tortious or contractual, no matter how it is caused, and I will indemnify them for any loss of property or compensation for injury to myself or any person as a result of my practice of aikido whether claimed by me or any one on my behalf.
- (f) to follow and obey the Aikido Kokikai Australia Ltd constitution. This document can be found at <http://www.kokikaiaustralia.org/>
- (g) to stop training or leave the dojo if requested to do so by the instructor.
